

ARTS AND ARCHIVES: Master Classes in the Arts and Humanities for Older Adults

FREE hands-on fine arts and humanities workshops at Hartford Public Library and heritage-based seminars exploring the special collections in the Library's Hartford History Center.

Taught by Master Artists

MAKING IMAGES/MAKING WORDS OR #SELFIEPOEM

WITH PHOTOGRAPHER SED MILES
AND
POET KATE RUSHIN

Workshops: Saturday mornings
10:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.

in the
Hartford History Center

April 26 and May 3, 10, 17 and 31

Enrollment is limited. Sign up today!

In-person, online at www.hplct.org or by calling 860-695-6295. Register now!

Join two master artists in our newest Arts and Archives series "Making Images/Making Words."

This 5-class Saturday progressive workshop will have participants work with photography and with short forms of poetry to capture and write about people, places and things. The photography piece is not necessarily the taking of a self-portrait, but taking a picture that represents, in some way, your personal story. Your final poem will be reflective of that image. Final projects will be on display in the downtown library. Participants are asked to bring their camera or camera phone to class. If you need a camera to participate in this workshop, please call 860-695-6377. A limited number of cameras are available for loan.

Participants must commit to attending all five classes in this series.

Arts and Archives: Master Classes in the Arts and Humanities for Older Adults is funded in part through the Nutmeg Foundation. If you require special accommodations to participate in this program, contact the Programming Office at 860-695-6320 two weeks prior to the program.